A young Trinidadian street vendor must travel to Toronto and decide if he will help save his estranged father from dying in this family drama. The child of immigrants from Trinidad and Tobago, Canadian filmmaker Ian Harnarine—named one of Filmmaker Magazine’s “25 New Faces of Independent Film”—drew upon his own experiences dealing with a parent’s illness to create a poignant meditation on what can be lost in the search for a better life.

"What About the Deacon?" is a documentary by JustEldredge Media that examines the tragic case of Deacon Johnny Hollman, a 63-year-old man killed by an Atlanta police officer and a tow truck driver after calling for help with a minor fender bender. More than a year later, neither has been indicted, casting a shadow over Atlanta's judicial system. The film highlights the resilient fight of Deacon Hollman's children and the community as they demand justice.
